

WHY A WILL IS NOT ENOUGH

A will is a good starting point, but it is usually not enough for aging seniors. More planning is needed, especially if you or your spouse have degenerative health conditions or a family history of them.

Based upon your specific situation, we can craft a plan that focuses on protecting your family assets while promoting a high quality of life.

WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR?

You have a choice: plan now or scramble later. Let us help you plan today. It's what we do. We do it well.

ELDER LAW

A KNOWLEDGEABLE ELDER LAW ATTORNEY IS A MUST...

As you get older, you look for doctors that specialize in your unique health concerns. Your attorney should be no different. We are uniquely positioned to enhance the planning you may have already done while preparing you and your family for the challenges that come with aging.

As elder law attorneys, we help you plan for a variety of issues, including long-term care planning, foundational estate planning, asset protection, and so much more.

ELDER LAW AND ASSET PROTECTION PLANNING

Proper planning is essential regardless of your net worth. In fact, middle-class families are more likely to experience a disproportionately negative impact to their financial well-being during a health crisis than wealthy people who can afford to pay for their own care without much impact on their net worth. You have worked hard for what you have. Protect it for your family. Preserve the family treasure in the event you need long-term care.

OUR PLANNING ADDRESSES LEGAL, FINANCIAL, MEDICAL, AND SOCIAL ISSUES THAT AGING AMERICANS FACE.

WHAT IS ELDER LAW?

At its core, elder law is estate planning for seniors. Health care costs are rising at a rate faster than most people's finances can afford. People are living longer because of advances in medicine. Over 10,000 baby boomers turn 65 every day and the fastest growing segment of the population is people age 80 and over.

Planning to protect your nest egg for when, not if, a long-term care event strikes your family may make all the difference in the world when it comes to preserving the family treasure and leaving a legacy.

Our experienced elder law attorneys can legally guide you with a plan for your health-care needs and protect your assets. Our Florida elder law services include:

- Long-Term Care Planning
- Medicaid Planning
- Veteran Pension Planning
- Special Needs Planning

DON'T WAIT UNTIL IT IS TOO LATE.
